VI. GENERAL PROVISIONS

While the Committee has the responsibilities and powers set forth in this Charter, it is not the duty of the Committee to prepare the Company's financial statements, to plan or conduct audits of those financial statements or to determine that those financial statements are complete and accurate and in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles; rather, such actions and determinations are the responsibility of management and the independent auditor. Similarly, it is not the responsibility or duty of the Committee directly to conduct investigations or to directly assure compliance with applicable laws and regulations, but the Committee may direct such investigations and order such assurances and rely upon reports of such activities.

The responsibilities and authority set forth in this Charter are a guide with the understanding that the Committee may diverge from this guide in appropriate circumstances or as it otherwise determines appropriate.

The Company shall pay any compensation determined appropriate by the Committee to the independent auditor for the purpose of rendering or issuing an audit report or performing other audit, review or attest services for the Company, and any fees, costs or expenses incurred by the Committee in discharging its responsibilities under this Charter.

While the members of the Committee have the duties and responsibilities set forth in this Charter, nothing contained herein is intended to create, or should be construed as creating for the members of the Committee any responsibility or liability, except to the extent otherwise provided under applicable federal or state law.

This Charter amends in its entirety and replaces the charter of the Committee as heretofore in effect.
