

Effective January 30, 2004

Code of Ethics for Chief Executive Officer and Senior Financial Officers

This Code of Ethics for the Chief Executive Officer and Senior Financial Officers applies to the Chief Executive Officer of McDermott International, Inc. (the “Company”) and to the Company’s Chief Financial Officer, its Chief Accounting Officer, Treasurer and Controller and other persons performing similar functions (the “Covered Employees”). The Company expects all its employees to act in accordance with the highest standards of personal and professional integrity, to comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations, to deter wrongdoing and abide by the Company’s Code of Conduct and other policies and procedures adopted by the Company that govern the conduct of its employees. This Code is intended to supplement our other policies and procedures, including our Code of Business Conduct handbook.

Honest and ethical conduct; conflicts of interest. In carrying out their duties and responsibilities, Covered Employees should engage in and promote honest and ethical conduct, including the ethical handling of actual or apparent conflicts of interest between personal and professional relationships. Covered Employees should strive to identify and raise potential issues before they lead to problems.

A conflict of interest occurs when an individual’s personal interest is adverse to or otherwise in conflict with the interests of the Company. Covered Employees should avoid taking actions that would create actual or apparent conflicts of interest. In those rare occasions in which an unanticipated conflict of interest may arise, the affected Covered Employee should promptly bring the situation to the attention of both the Company’s General Counsel and Corporate Compliance Officer so that appropriate steps may be taken to eliminate the conflict or take other appropriate action to mitigate the effect of the conflict. Conflicts of interest may involve not only situations in which the Covered Employee has a direct personal interest, but also those in which a family member has an interest or those in which the interest is indirect through a corporation, partnership or other entity.

Full and fair disclosure. It is the Company’s policy that the information in its public communications, including filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, be timely and understandable and fair, complete and accurate in all material respects. Covered Employees should exercise diligence and care to do their part in acting in furtherance of this policy. Covered Employees are prohibited from knowingly misrepresenting, omitting, or causing others to misrepresent or omit, material facts about the Company to anyone having a role in the Company’s financial reporting and disclosure processes. Covered Employees must not directly or indirectly take any action to coerce, manipulate, mislead or fraudulently influence the Company’s or its subsidiaries’ independent auditors or any internal accounting or auditing personnel for the purpose or with the effect of rendering the Company’s financial statements misleading, or direct anyone else to do so.

It is the responsibility of each Covered Employee promptly to bring to the attention of the Company's Disclosure Committee any material information of which the executive may become aware that affects the disclosures made by the Company in its public filings or otherwise, and otherwise to assist the Disclosure Committee in fulfilling its responsibilities. In addition, each Covered Employee shall promptly bring to the attention of the Disclosure Committee any information the employee may have concerning (a) significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal controls which could adversely affect the Company's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information or (b) any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the Company's financial reporting, disclosures or internal controls.

Compliance with laws and regulations. Covered Employees should comply with applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations. Although no single individual is expected to know the details of all laws, rules and regulations, it is important to know enough to determine when to seek advice or guidance. Each Covered Employee should promptly bring to the attention of both the Company's General Counsel and Corporate Compliance Officer evidence of any material violations of laws, rules or regulations applicable to the Company, by the Company or anyone acting on its behalf.

Reporting of violations of this code. Each Covered Employee is responsible for reporting any violation of this Code of Ethics, or circumstances which the Covered Employee considers to involve a probable violation, to the Compliance Officer identified below. Employees may choose to remain anonymous in reporting violations or circumstances that may involve a violation.

Accountability. Each Covered Employee will be held accountable for his or her adherence to this Code of Ethics. The failure to observe the terms of this Code of Ethics may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment. Violations of this Code of Ethics may also constitute violations of law that may result in civil and criminal penalties.

Compliance Officer. The Compliance Officer for purposes of this Code of Ethics is the Corporate Compliance Officer.