Q4 Web Systems Welcomes Roland Beaulieu as a New Board Member

Former CCBN COO brings extensive financial technology and operations experience to Q4

MARCH 3, 2015 – Toronto, ON – Q4 Web Systems (Q4), the leading provider of SaaS-based investor relations solutions for public companies, announced that Roland Beaulieu, former COO of Corporate Communications Broadcast Network (CCBN) has officially joined Q4's board of directors.

During his time at CCBN, Roland was Head of its Institutional Management Group that created StreetEvents, the standard corporate reporting tool of Wall Street Institutions. CCBN was sold to Thomson Reuters in 2004. Before his tenure at CCBN, Roland spent 13 years in a variety of positions at Thomson Financial. He served as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Trading Service Division, and played a key role as Senior Vice President and Chief Operating Officer in building the technology behind Thomson's First Call services. He also had roles at Lotus/ISYS, NewRiver Inc., Data Resources/McGraw-Hill, and several roles as Entrepreneur-in-residence at several Boston based Venture Capital firms.

"We are honoured to have Roland join the Q4 Board. With over 25 years experience in financial technology Roland brings extensive operating experience to the Q4 board" said Darrell Heaps, CEO & Founder at Q4 "I look forward to working with Roland as we expand our solutions and continue to grow."

More recently, Roland has held the position of President & COO at Nexus Research Analytics, and formerly the President and CEO of First Coverage, where he led the merger with TIM Group, and where he now sits on the TIM Group Board of Directors.

"I am pleased to be joining the Q4 Board at this exciting time of growth and expansion. I'm impressed at the business Darrell and his management team are building and the velocity at which they are building it." said Roland "I look forward to working with the Q4 leadership team and the other board members as we guide Q4 towards achieving their vision of creating a financial technology organization that delivers the best solutions and a world-class customer experience".
