SS&C GlobeOp Hedge Fund Performance Index: December performance 0.84%; Capital Movement Index: January net flows decline 1.35%

1/12/2018

WINDSOR, Conn., Jan. 12, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- The gross return of the SS&C GlobeOp Hedge Fund Performance Index for December 2017 measured 0.84%.

Hedge fund flows as measured by the SS&C GlobeOp Capital Movement Index declined 1.35% in January.

"SS&C GlobeOp's Capital Movement Index for January 2018 showed net flows of -1.35%, which should be viewed as a very strong result considering January typically produces significant net outflows for hedge funds," said Bill Stone, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, SS&C Technologies. "In fact, on a year-over-year basis, the -1.35% for January 2018 represents a sharp improvement from the -3.30% reported for the same period a year ago for January 2017 and is also the lowest net outflow for any month of January since 2012. Moreover, this gain was driven by a combination of increased inflows as well as lower outflows, indicating that 2018 is off to a strong start for hedge funds in terms of both attracting and retaining assets."
