SS&C Re-engineers SKYLINE® Property Management Solution for Optimal Productivity

10/18/2018

"SKYLINE® Skyscraper™" enhances user interface, navigation and reporting

WINDSOR, Conn., Oct. 18, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- SS&C Technologies Holdings, Inc. (Nasdaq:SSNC), a global provider of financial services software and software-enabled services, today announced the release of SKYLINE® Skyscraper™, a significant re-engineering of the company's popular property management and accounting solution for commercial, residential and mixed-use property managers.

Culminating a two-year development effort, SKYLINE Skyscraper introduces a redesigned user interface with an icon-based toolbar that offers superior ease of use and intuitive navigation throughout the system. In addition, users can work seamlessly and simultaneously in multiple screens.

Along with enhanced usability and cutting-edge navigation, SKYLINE Skyscraper's reporting capabilities optimize efficiency by enabling users to generate and distribute historical rent roll and accounts receivable aging reports for any point in time. This gives users the ability to reconcile outstanding accounts receivable to historical balance sheets making the reconciliation process significantly easier.

"The release of SKYLINE Skyscraper has been designed from the ground up to help property managers run crucial operations efficiently while mitigating risk," said Rishi Khanna, Managing Director, Alternative Assets Technology. "Offered as a cloud, outsourced and license solution, SKYLINE Skyscraper demonstrates our commitment to continuously improving our industry leading technology to position our clients for success."
