New Website Makes it Easier To Do Business

LONDON--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- To meet the quick-turn, high-quality product needs of panel builders, OEMs, system integrators and distributors, nVent Electric plc (NYSE:NVT) ("nVent"), a global leader in electrical connection and protection solutions, today launched a new website for nVent HOFFMAN products (hoffman.nvent.com). The new website seamlessly guides customers through selecting a product, requesting a quote and finding their closest distributor or sales representative in North America. nVent HOFFMAN products comprise the electrical industry's most comprehensive protection portfolio of enclosures that meet global and local standards for a vast range of applications.

"The robust capabilities of our new website make it much easier for our customers to find the products, accessories, technical specifications and drawings they need," said Karla Leis, Vice President and General Manager at nVent. "This is one of many digital investments we are making to enable our customers to quickly get the solutions they need to maximize productivity and grow their businesses."

Easy to do business with

Now, thanks to the powerful functionality and enriched, intuitive design, customers can easily search, select and request a quote.

- Quickly find and select the right products. Using strong search capabilities and intuitive filters, customers can narrow their selections, in just a few clicks, to those that best meet their requirements. Customers can also easily find quick-ship products that ship in two days or less through the HOFFMAN on Demand program.

- Easily find and choose nearby distributors for fast delivery. With an easy-to-find locator for the nearest authorized distributors, customers can filter selections for fast delivery based on available inventory and proximity to one of more than 3,000 distribution locations.
- Access expert resources and tools. To make engineering work and the handling of products easy, customers can get detailed technical documentation, animated mounting instructions, software and more. They can access online configurators, drawings in more than 40 different formats, product data sheets, installation instructions and selection tools, and have quick access to after-market support, such as field service, a spare parts look-up tool and warranty information. Customers also can find whitepapers, case studies, videos, brochures and user manuals throughout the website, all aggregated in a searchable resource library.

With more than 12,000 products and tailored solutions, nVent offers a global manufacturing footprint and a uniquely complete range of IEC and NEMA electrical enclosures under the nVent HOFFMAN brand. All nVent HOFFMAN products are manufactured to the highest standards, and backed by service and sales support around the world.
