Black Knight Launches Actionable Intelligence Platform

Extensive Data Assets and Decision-Quality Analytics Help the Mortgage Industry Grow Revenue, Improve Efficiency and Reduce Risk

- Leverages Black Knight's multi-year, multi-million dollar investment in its data, analytics and technology solutions to deliver actionable intelligence to lenders and servicers
- Features analytics specific to organizational levels: executive, manager, employee and data scientist, so everyone can take the right actions at the right time
- Helps lenders and servicers grow their businesses and reduce processing time, costs, and risks

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. – Aug. 15, 2018 – Black Knight, Inc. (NYSE:BKI) announced the launch of its LoanSphere Actionable Intelligence Platform, a unified delivery system that integrates Black Knight's extensive data, analytics and technology solutions to provide actionable intelligence that can help mortgage lenders and servicers grow their businesses and reduce processing time, costs, and risk.

“The Actionable Intelligence Platform will help our clients with some of their toughest business challenges by delivering strategic, proactive and actionable analytics across every function and level of a client's organization to support smarter decision-making,” said Black Knight CEO Anthony Jabbour. “This game-changing solution provides clients with a competitive edge and unparalleled business insight by giving organizations the tools, tasks and information necessary to take the right actions at precisely the right time.”

Specifically, the Actionable Intelligence Platform offers powerful analytics to help lenders and servicers generate more leads, increase customer retention, operate more efficiently and reduce risk. These analytics are integrated with and augment many of Black Knight's origination, servicing and default software. Additionally, the solution can also incorporate client and third-party proprietary data to deliver critical insights to the client's organization.

The Actionable Analytics Platform features analytics developed specifically for the following organization levels:

- Strategic Analytics (Executive-Level) – Aligns with a client's strategic objectives to offer executives a clearer view of company performance.

- Proactive Analytics (Manager-Level) – Helps front-line managers become more aware of exceptions, events and activities that require attention, so they can adopt a more proactive approach and recommend appropriate actions.
- Actionable Analytics (Employee-Level) – Communicates a specific action – or actions – to an employee at the time of need so it can be proactively addressed.
- Innovative Analytics (Data Scientist-Level) – Enables a client’s data scientists and market analysts to use Black Knight’s advanced data and technologies to develop specific analytics based on other data in their organization’s portfolios or other company strategies.

“The Actionable Intelligence Platform represents the fruition of years of investment and innovation in Black Knight’s expansive data and cutting-edge analytics,” said Tyler Sherman, president of Black Knight’s Enterprise Business Intelligence division. “Only Black Knight has consolidated this breadth of industry data and analytics into one complete, integrated offering with the power to improve the way our clients’ organizations work by growing revenue, improving operational efficiency and supporting their compliance efforts.”
