

Carlisle Companies Announces Leadership Appointments

SCOTTSDALE, AZ — November 3, 2025 — Carlisle Companies Incorporated (NYSE:CSL) is pleased to announce that, effective November 3, 2025, Jason Taylor will join the company as President of its Construction Materials business (CCM). As part of this transition, Steve Schwar will assume the role of Vice Chair of CCM to ensure a smooth and effective leadership transition. Both Mr. Taylor and Mr. Schwar will report to Chris Koch, Carlisle's Chair, President, and Chief Executive Officer.

Mr. Taylor has joined CCM after more than 14 years at Beacon Building Products, now known as QXO, Inc., a leading distributor of roofing and complementary building products. At Beacon, Mr. Taylor held several key leadership roles, including most recently serving as President of the West Division. Mr. Taylor has had a long and productive relationship with Carlisle, is well versed in Carlisle's business, and brings deep industry knowledge and key relationships with distributors and contractors. He has also demonstrated a strong track record of leading top and bottom-line growth throughout his career. Mr. Taylor holds a Master of Business Administration from Harvard Business School and a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from the University of California, Berkeley.

Mr. Schwar has served as President of CCM since February 2022 and previously held a number of leadership roles in his over 40 years of experience with Carlisle.

"This appointment marks a significant step in CCM's leadership succession strategy," said Mr. Koch. "Jason brings a wealth of industry knowledge, operational expertise, and a strong track record of leadership. We are confident he will help guide CCM into its next phase of growth. We are also incredibly grateful to Steve for his continued leadership and support during this transition."
