LAS VEGAS

MGM MIRAGE (NYSE: MGM) today announced that Mr. Daniel J. Taylor has accepted an invitation to join the Company's Board of Directors. Mr. Taylor was elected to his new post by the MGM MIRAGE Board of Directors at their regularly scheduled meeting held on March 20, 2007.

"We are very pleased to welcome Dan to the Board of Directors," said Terry Lanni, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of MGM MIRAGE. "His financial, entertainment and gaming experience will assist him in providing valuable insight and perspective to our Board and the future growth of our Company."

Mr. Taylor brings a long record of experience to the Board, beginning his career as a tax manager with Arthur Anderson & Company where he specialized in the firm's entertainment and gaming practice. Throughout his career he has held several top executive positions. He served as Vice President of Taxes at MGM/UA Communications Co., then as an executive of Tracinda Corporation before moving to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Inc. where he served as Senior Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer. Mr. Taylor also served as President of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Inc. following the company's purchase by a consortium of investors led by Providence and TPG.

Currently, Mr. Taylor again holds an executive post with Tracinda Corporation and is also a member of the Board of Directors of Inforte Corporation where he serves as Chair of the Compensation Committee and a member of the Audit Committee.

In addition to his duties as a member of the MGM MIRAGE Board of Directors, Mr. Taylor will also serve on the Company's Compensation Committee.
