"The Monte Carlo family welcomes Jabbawockeez as they bring their high-energy dance production and entertaining show to the stage nightly," said Anton Nikodemus, president and COO of Monte Carlo. "Adding them to our list of performers brings an enhanced level of excitement to the resort and will provide guests with another sensational entertainment option."

Fred Nguyen, president and principal owner of JBWKZ, LLC also states, "We are honored to become a part of the prestigious MGM Resorts International family. We are excited to bring a new element to the Las Vegas Strip.

Headlining a show at a resort like Monte Carlo has always been our dream, so it becoming a reality for us is truly humbling."

Jabbawockeez has developed a one-of-a-kind style that has not only provided a new culture to the dance industry, but changed the way people view dance. Dressed in expressionless white masks and white gloves, they guide the audience's attention away from individual identities and toward a unified group to create a canvas for the audience to visualize the music by painting artistic imagery through their intricate moves. After being crowned the original champions of MTV's "Randy Jackson Presents America's Best Dance Crew," their unmatched talent and captivating style quickly became a fan favorite with their stardom even reaching international fame. Through their coveted title, they have appeared on numerous television shows including "Dancing With The Stars," "So You Think You Can Dance," "The Ellen DeGeneres Show," "Regis & Kelly," "The TODAY Show," "E! News," "America's Next Top Model" and "MTV."
