CBRE Earns 2019 ENERGY STAR® Partner of the Year – Sustained Excellence Award

4/9/2019

Twelve Consecutive Years of EPA Recognition

LOS ANGELES--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has recognized CBRE (NYSE: CBRE) with a 2019 ENERGY STAR® Partner of the Year Sustained Excellence Award for continued leadership and superior contributions to ENERGY STAR. This marks the twelfth consecutive year CBRE has earned ENERGY STAR's Partner of the Year award.

"As the world's largest manager of commercial buildings, CBRE is committed to helping our clients reduce energy consumption in the properties they own and occupy," said Alison Caplan, Head of Corporate Responsibility, CBRE. "We are proud to once again be an ENERGY STAR Partner of the Year."

Since CBRE developed its environmental sustainability program in 2006, ENERGY STAR has remained the operational framework for advancing energy efficiency practices in the company's managed portfolio. In 2018, CBRE registered and benchmarked a record-breaking 6,418 buildings, representing more than 420 million square feet of managed assets.

Earlier this year, CBRE was ranked #33 on Barron's list of the 100 Most Sustainable Companies in the U.S. CBRE was also the top-ranked real estate company on Fortune's World's Most Admired Company roster.
