

“Non Binding Agreement between AMX and Entel”

México City, México, October 6, 2025, América Móvil, S.A.B. de C.V. (“AMX”) [BMV: AMX] [NYSE: AMX], and Empresa Nacional de Telecomunicaciones S.A. (“ENTEL”) signed a non-binding agreement to jointly explore a potential offer to acquire Telefónica S.A. Chilean assets. The parties may decide at any time not to submit an offer or submit an offer individually or jointly and, if they do so, any offer and potential transaction will be subject to obtaining the necessary corporate approvals; and to the regulatory standards and authorizations required under the applicable sectoral and competition rules, including the prior authorization of the National Economic Prosecutor's Office of the Republic of Chile (Fiscalía Nacional Económica de Chile).

The interest of both companies in jointly exploring their potential offer is based on the potential benefits that the transaction could generate for its clients and Chilean consumers in general, given that it would strengthen the telecommunications sector competitiveness, increasing the ability to continue investing and competing in high-speed networks and coverage, through a more efficient use of the involved assets, all of which is key to the country's digitalization.
