

ChargePoint CEO Named to 2025 TIME100 Climate List

2025-11-07

CAMPBELL, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- ChargePoint (NYSE: CHPT), a global leader in electric vehicle (EV) charging solutions, today announced that President and Chief Executive Officer Rick Wilmer has been named to TIME's 2025 list of the 100 most influential leaders driving climate action in business.

ChargePoint CEO Rick Wilmer has been named to the 2025 TIME100 Climate List.

Wilmer was included within the "Titan" category of the TIME100 Climate list for his impact leading ChargePoint on its mission to accelerate the transition to electric mobility. Proof points of this mission include ChargePoint enabling 17 billion miles driven by electric vehicles to date, avoiding an estimated 646 million gallons of gasoline in the process. By electrifying those miles, ChargePoint estimates it has averted more than 4 million metric tons of greenhouse gas emissions.

"The TIME 100 recognition is truly a reflection of the incredible work, dedication, and talent of the ChargePoint team. Every milestone we have reached, every challenge we have overcome, and every innovation we have developed has been a team effort in the name of driving e-Mobility," said Wilmer. "Leaders across the TIME 100 Climate list concur that our planet must accelerate a transition to clean energy. We will continue working to enable electric mobility for the health of our planet."

ChargePoint believes that the rapid transition to electric mobility is essential to building a sustainable future for all. By providing an effortless charging experience for companies, fleets and drivers, ChargePoint is enabling mobility in a manner that is good for the planet, good for society and good for business. The prestigious accolade from TIME highlights the important role green business leaders play in the future of global sustainability.
