

Hyve Solutions Leverages Latest 3rd Gen Intel Xeon Scalable Processors for its Customers

4/6/2021

Provides significant performance boost across storage, general compute and AI platforms

SAN JOSE, Calif., April 6, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Hyve Solutions Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of SYNNEX Corporation (NYSE: SNX) and a leading provider of hyperscale digital infrastructures, today announced it is incorporating the latest 3rd Gen Intel Xeon Scalable processors across its storage, general compute and AI platforms to enable its customers to benefit from the significant performance gains.

Available now, Hyve's HS9219 motherboard with 3rd Gen Intel Xeon Scalable processors are designed for flexibility, by supporting a number of systems to meet a variety of customer requirements.

"Hyve is working closely with our customers to employ this industry-leading technology designed to dramatically benefit a wide range of diverse and challenging HPC and AI applications," said Steve Ichinaga, President of Hyve Solutions and Hyve Design Solutions. "Through our deep relationship with Intel, we've incorporated the new processors into our platforms to ensure that Hyve has leveraged the significant advances in order for our customers to unleash the full value of their data."

For Hyve's customers, adoption of the latest generation of Intel processors is expected to bring a 150 percent increase in I/O bandwidth for AI and storage applications and a 50 percent increase in performance for general compute applications. Optimized for the cloud, enterprise, HPC, network and IoT workloads, the processors deliver built-in crypto acceleration.

The latest 3rd Gen Intel Xeon Scalable processors implement ground-breaking innovations in core architecture and security, plus improved memory bandwidth and higher core counts.

"We are pleased to work with Hyve to help ensure their platforms take advantage of the speed, I/O bandwidth and PCIe Gen 4 capabilities of the latest 3rd Gen Intel Xeon Scalable processors," said Greg Ernst, Intel Vice President and General Manager, US Sales. "We look forward to continuing our collaboration with Hyve to further its technical expertise in platforms that meet the complex requirements of its customers while providing flexibility and reliability."
