The presentation shall not constitute a solicitation of a proxy, consent or authorization with respect to any securities. This presentation shall also not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any securities, nor shall there be any sale of securities in any jurisdictions in which such offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful prior to registration or qualification under the securities laws of any such jurisdiction. No offering of securities shall be made except by means of a prospectus meeting the requirements of Section 10 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

Forward-Looking Statements
The statements in this presentation that are not historical facts are “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the safe harbor provisions of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements may be identified by the use of words such as “anticipate”, “believe”, “expect”, “estimate”, “project”, “budget”, “forecast”, “intend”, “plan”, “may”, “will”, “could”, “should”, “predicts”, “potential”, “continue”, and other similar expressions that predict or indicate future events or trends or that are not statements of historical matters. Such forward-looking statements are based on current expectations, estimates and projections about the industry and markets in which Yatra operates. Yatra’s beliefs and assumptions are made by its management and are not predictions or guarantees of actual performance. Accordingly, actual results and performance may materially differ from results or performance expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. No representation is made as to the reasonableness of the assumptions made within or the accuracy or completeness of any forward-looking statements or other information contained herein. Factors that could cause future results and performance to differ from the forward-looking statements include but are not limited to: (1) Yatra’s history of operating losses; (2) competition in the Indian travel industry; (3) declines or disruptions in the Indian economy; (4) risks relating to any unforeseen liabilities of Yatra;(5) risks related Yatra's recent acquisition of a majority stake in Air Travel Bureau Limited ("ATB") and its ability to complete the acquisition of ATB's remaining outstanding shares; (6) future capital expenditures, expenses, revenues, earnings, synergies, economic performance, indebtedness, financial condition, losses and future prospects; businesses and management strategies and the expansion and growth of the operations of Yatra; (7) the limited liquidity and trading of Yatra’s securities; (8) changes in applicable laws or regulations; (9) the possibility that Yatra may be adversely affected by other economic, business, and/or competitive factors; and (10) other risks and uncertainties indicated from time to time in Yatra’s filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”).

Yatra cautions that the foregoing list of factors is not exclusive. Additional information concerning these and other risk factors is contained in Yatra’s most recent filings with the SEC. All subsequent written and oral forward looking statements or other matters are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements above. Yatra cautions readers not to place undue reliance upon forward looking statements, which speak only as of the date made. Yatra undertakes no obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by law.

Non-IFRS Financial Measures
In addition to the IFRS financial measures, this presentation includes certain non-IFRS financial measures, including Adjusted Revenue, Adjusted EBITDA (Loss), Net Revenue Margin and Gross Bookings. The non-IFRS measures have limitations as analytical tools and you should not consider them in isolation or as a substitute for an analysis of our results under IFRS as issued by the IAB. The Company considers these non-IFRS financial measures to be important because they provide useful measures of the operating performance of the Company, exclusive of unusual events or factors that do not directly affect what we consider to be our core operating performance, and are used by the Company's management for that purpose. All non-IFRS financial measures are reconciled to their directly comparable IFRS financial measures. These reconciliations are presented in the Appendix at the end of this presentation.

Industry and Market Data
Industry and market data used in this presentation have been obtained from industry publications and sources as well as from research reports prepared for other purposes. While Yatra believes such information to be reliable, it has not independently verified the data obtained from these sources.

Other
All years are calendar years unless otherwise noted as “fiscal year” or “FY”.

Yatra Online, Inc.’s financial and operating results for the three months ended Sep 30, 2018 and twelve months ended March 31, 2018 include the financial and operating results of ATB, for three months and eight months, respectively, in which we acquired a majority stake on August 4, 2017. Accordingly, the reported results for three months ended Sep 30, 2018 and twelve months ended March 31, 2018 which are inclusive of the impact of consolidation of the ATB, may not be comparable with the reported results of the three months ended Sep 30, 2017 and twelve month ended March 31, 2017.

Basis of Financial Presentation and Use of Non-IFRS Measures

The historical financial information regarding Yatra included in this investor presentation reflects Yatra's fiscal year end of March 31, and has been derived from audited financial statements of Yatra and its subsidiaries that were prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, or IFRS as issued by IASB, on a consolidated basis.

This presentation presents the metrics Adjusted Revenue, Adjusted EBITDA Losses, and Net Revenue Margin, which are non-IFRS measures. The presentation of these non-IFRS measures, which are defined below, is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for Yatra's consolidated financial results prepared in accordance with IFRS as issued by the IASB and included in the previous filings with SEC. The non-IFRS financial metrics may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies due to potential differences in the method of calculation. A reconciliation of these non-IFRS measures to the most comparable IFRS metric is set forth in this Appendix.

Description of Adjusted Revenue : As certain parts of Yatra's revenue are recognized on a "net" basis and other parts of revenue are recognized on a "gross" basis, Yatra evaluates its financial performance based on Adjusted Revenue, which is a non-IFRS measure. Adjusted Revenue represents revenue and other income after deducting service costs and adding back expenses related to consumer promotions and loyalty program costs that had been reduced from revenue due to the adoption of new accounting standard, IFRS 15, effective from April 1, 2018.

Yatra believes that Adjusted Revenue provides investors with useful supplemental information about the financial performance of Yatra's business and more accurately reflects the value addition of the travel services that Yatra provides to its customers. The presentation of this non-IFRS information is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for Yatra's consolidated financial results prepared in accordance with IFRS as issued by the IASB. Yatra's Adjusted Revenue may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies due to potential differences in the method of calculation. This Appendix reconciles Yatra's revenue, which is an IFRS measure, to Adjusted Revenue, which is a non-IFRS measure.

Description of Adjusted EBITDA: In addition to referring to Adjusted Revenue, we also refer to Adjusted EBITDA (Loss). We use financial statements that exclude employee share-based compensation cost, listing and related expenses, depreciation and amortization and change in fair value of warrants for our internal management reporting, budgeting and decision making purposes, including comparing our operating results to that of our competitors. Because of varying available valuation methodologies and subjective assumptions that companies can use when adopting IFRS 2 "Share based payment", management believes that providing non-IFRS financial measures that exclude such expenses allows investors to make additional comparisons between our operating results and those of other companies. Accordingly, we believe that adjusted EBITDA (loss) is useful in measuring the results of our company and provide investors and analysts a more accurate representation of our operating results. However, the presentation of these non-IFRS measures are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for our consolidated financial results prepared in accordance with IFRS as issued by the IASB. These non-IFRS measures may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies due to potential differences in the method of calculation. The IFRS measures most directly comparable to adjusted EBITDA (loss) is Profit/(loss) for the period as per IFRS. A limitation of using Adjusted EBITDA (Loss) as against using the measures in accordance with IFRS as issued by the IASB are that these non-IFRS financial measures exclude share-based compensation cost, listing and related expenses, depreciation and amortization, change in fair value of warrants, Share of loss of joint venture, Finance income, Finance costs and Income-Tax. Management compensates for this limitation by providing specific information on the IFRS amounts excluded from Profit/(loss) for the period as per IFRS.

Description of Net Revenue Margin: Net Revenue Margin is defined as Adjusted Revenue as a percentage of Gross Bookings and represent the commissions, fees, incentive payments and other amounts earned in our business. We follow Net Revenue Margin trends closely across our various lines of business to gain insight into the performance of our various businesses.

Description of Gross Bookings: This presentation also uses the operating metric "Gross Bookings" which represents the total amount paid by our customers for the travel services and products booked through us, including taxes, fees and other charges, and are net of cancellations and refunds.

All years are calendar years unless otherwise noted as "fiscal year" or "FY".
